

Heritage and Environment

It is the policy of Yurala Contracting Service to ensure responsible management and protection of any heritage sites as well as the environment at all times in line with all state and federal legislation.

Yurala Contracting Service will ensure that all employees and contractors will:

- Achieve compliance with relevant heritage and environmental legislation as a minimum with company KPI's and goals above these levels;
- Compliance with client heritage and environmental requirements.
- Identification of heritage, environmental and community risks with rapid implementation of corrective actions to eliminate all hazards where possible.
- Set targets for all personnel through regular monitoring and improvement processes to reduce environmental risks.
- Implementation and compliance with stringent waste management policies and procedures to prevent pollution as well as assessing all heritage, environment and community issues when purchasing any plant or equipment.
- Working closely with local indigenous and non-indigenous landowners to ensure all heritage, environmental and community issue are addressed.
- Continuous input from all employees and contractors as well as regular refresher training and communication sessions.

Yurala Contracting Service will identify, monitor and manage all heritage, environment and community issues to ensure that we maintain a high quality of management of these issues.

---

Charles Smith - CEO
Yurala Contracting Service

Approval Date: 1 October 2014

Policy Review Date: 1 October 2015